LOCAL ECONOMY CONTINUES TO GROW, WITH ALL KEY INDICATORS ON THE “UP SIDE”

According to Shel Bockman and Barbara Sirotnik (Co-Directors of the Institute of Applied Research) and Candice Tsegga (Project Coordinator): “This month’s PMI (55.6) continues to remain above the 50% mark, thus pointing towards sustained growth in the local manufacturing sector and economy in general. Further it remains above the 44.5% mark which is the benchmark for the growth in the local economy. All key indicators register growth, with employment showing marked improvement over the previous month (53.8, up from 45.8). Commodity Prices continue to remain relatively high, indicating that purchasing managers perceive inflationary pressures in the local area. Purchasing Managers’ optimism about the coming quarter’s economy remains strong.”

Following are some highlights from this month’s report:

 NOTE: Inland Empire data were not collected for the months of October and November, 1996 and July 2005.

When Purchasing managers were asked to make comments on the general business conditions that affected their company, they remarked positively: " Business is going very strong at this time," " First quarter is better than first quarter 2004," " Business up, orders up," " Business continues to be strong," " Seems to be picking up," " Business is strong," and " Everything good." Negative comments include: " [A] little soft," " Loss of two high volume accounts has caused reductions throughout our plant," and " Sales of our product remain flat, and are off by approx. 40% compared to the same period last year,"

In summary, IAR views this report as one of the strongest in recent months, with all key indicators reflecting growth in the local manufacturing sector and the economy as a whole, and confidence.
